

Salaried Consultants for AWS ProService Staffing

Solving enterprise cloud transformational project staffing challenges with certified AWS professional service consultants

Long-Term, Dedicated Consulted Staffing

AWS Expertise Delivered

Cloudwick’s salaried professionals are highly skilled AWS engineers with cloud data lake, big data and data warehouse experience and certifications. We also have skilled machine learning engineers who can work with your team to develop, tune and deploy new models.

As full-time Cloudwick employees, our salaried professionals receive a competitive salary and benefits package. This is important because it means that they can stay focused working on your project without losing focus and looking for their next project or a full-time job.

When you need a highly skilled AWS specialist or a team to step in and start contributing from day one, and you can’t afford typical contractor hiring delays and turnover turn to Cloudwick for dedicated salaried consultants to get your cloud transformational project into production more quickly.

Our AWS certified data lake engineers, devops engineers, machine learning engineers and data scientist are ideal for:
